in conclusion, everyone who is a student in a university faces many a challenge like making new friends in university, and new environment also new system, and how to organize their time to study and be ready to take different subjects each semester and new for them and learning how to deal with the pressure of the courses also how do group and collaborate with them

Summarized by © lakhasly.com