

We all use the Internet to connect with people. Using email, social networking sites, and instant messaging are ordinary ways that people connect. 12-year-old Sean Redden from Denton, Texas, was in on the Internet, playing a cyber fantasy world game.