

The idea was taken from the Haworthia plant from the cactus family and transformed into a home clock and placed in the hall to add beauty to the hall and its shape is very comfortable because it was taken from the shape of the Haworthia plant. The design is likely to borrow the geometric patterns, textures or general silhouette of the plant, known for its symmetrical, thorny leaves and compact shape.