

There are a number of third party anti- virus products available. o Many companies supply updated disks on a regular basis or allow you to receive updates through an electronic, on-line bulletin board. o The main thing about your virus checker is that it should be kept up to date.