

The city of Abha has an ideal location in southwestern Saudi Arabia, at an altitude of 2,200 meters between the Sarawat Mountains, where its location gives you the opportunity to wander among its mountain peaks, filled with amazement and fascination, as you travel through times exceeding hundreds of years, when you see castles and palaces built from components of their environment. With fog maneuvering and appearing even in the summer, this will not prevent you from discovering its plains, slopes and rich diversity, and getting to know closely its beautiful society.