

This information was gathered in a traditional way, interviews, observing and collecting information.