

In Figure 1, one can see that a roller of mass  $m$  has been placed on an inclined plane making an angle  $\theta$  with the horizontal. A downward force along the inclined plane is applied to the body by adjusting the suspended weights.