A) A poker face is a blank facial expression that hides emotions, used in games to avoid giving away information to opponent Based on the chess game that took place in the class, the three players used this method, as they did not show any expressions of joy or happiness during the game in order not to reveal their plan to win, in order for the opponent to become nervous and not to show solutions to the competitor, and this reduces the possibility of the opponent winning

Summarized by © lakhasly.com