

TRAVEL BLOG: My Year Around the World I'm Sara. We're going to spend a few more days in Kerala and then we're going to Sri Lanka. There were hundreds of rickshaws, motorbikes and cars driving around, and people shouting and rushing everywhere. After Varkala, we spent a few days on a houseboat travelling down a river. I'll write an update on my blog again when I arrive there! We left Canada in January when Mum and Dad decided they wanted us to give up our lives in Canada, and go travelling for a year! We spent a couple of days in Delhi and then went by train all the way down the coast to Kerala. We travelled through the jungle and across rivers. Unfortunately, my brother Dan hated it because he doesn't like heights! It was quite spicy and full of different flavours. After that, the local children taught us a traditional Indian board game called Carroms. I'm 12 years old and this is my blog! It was so busy and noisy.
