

Volunteer work means offering a helping hand to others, and making an effort to do good, achieve it and spread it in the community. Benefits of volunteering: Volunteering contributes greatly to strengthening social relations between people.