

I like to practice many hobbies in my free time, but reading is my favorite hobby, it is a very enjoyable and fun hobby because it is a way to gain knowledge and develop the individual, you only need books and pens to read, I started reading when I was ten years old, and at the end of every three months I reward myself with a new book, and a new reading adventure. But I enjoy reading books that develop the self and increase my intellectual development and help me learn about lifestyles and learn about different human personalities to know how to deal with different types of people.
