

3M acquired CUNO for several reasons. CUNO estimates secondary market replacement sales at over 70 percent, providing an expected revenue stream. One of the main reasons is that CUNO was considered a leader in the design, manufacture and marketing of a comprehensive range of filtration products for separation, clarification and purification of liquids and gasses¹².