Analysis of Big Data is the main character by use of real time information and very large sets of information from different sources .The availability of Big Data where there it was (Structure, UnStructure), and new information management, and analytic software has produced a unique way in the history of data analysis[8].And we have the technology to make our future much better with the good tools.