

STEVE: Oh, please. You're never too young to start thinking about your future, and you have to do what you can to get an advantage in the field, especially for future lawyers like me. Plus, Dad always said--

MOM: Steve, I'm in the kitchen, and I shouldn't be able to hear the T.V. so clearly! There's absolutely no reason for it to be that loud, so lower the volume on that television, now!

STEVE: Okay, Mom, I will. I want my clothes to show people that I, too, am self-assured and ready to take on any of life's challenges.

STEVE: STEVE runs to pull the tie out of washing machine, and it has been bleached. What can I --

LUCAS: You can't do anything because you've ruined it. You just don't understand, and you'll never understand. It was special to you, and I shouldn't have teased you about it. I want you to understand... Oh, you're such a goody two shoes, man.
