

In addition, the legislator has specified a short limitation period, after whose expiration it is not permissible to initiate claims arising from the insurance contract.