

Hurricanes begin as low pressure systems formed over warm, tropical water.