

Controlled Power Delivery: The bridge rectifier ensures that the DC voltage delivered to the laser system is controlled and within the specified operating range.