

The method is carried out to mix dry powder materials or combine solutions to mix easily or solve a solid material in a solution. The high speed rotary motion of the stirrer produces a high centrifugal force to blend asphalt with nanomaterial and the motor rotational speed remains constant during the mixing period.