

The package: On the package of our Colombia Narino coffee you can find a Yukuna mask. During September and October many dances and chants take place to celebrate the abundance of food and fish of the season, and from November to December households meet for two days and nights to dance the peach-palm ritual, in which dozens of masked men in bark-cloth costumes ritually sing and theatrically represent the animals with whom they share the fruit.