

II. The Similarities between management and administration are given below: a) People working in offices practice both management Administration and Management. c) Management comprises administration and Administration works well if combined together. d) Both Administration and Management include process-based techniques.e) Administration and Management must achieve something towards the end.