

Nothing is impossible these days, a guy named Stephen Klein invented a flying car he called "Air Car". The engine in it is a BMW, but it is supplied with gasoline like normal cars. This flying car flies for 1000 km, and can reach a distance of about 8200 feet. And when he starts running with it to get ready to fly, it takes about 15 seconds.