

Cities will have no street traffic, with all vehicles either underground or high above, connected by cushioned-wheeled "moving- sidewalk" stairways, reducing city noise to almost zero.