James and Ann were driving to the airport when Ann reminded James to check if he had his passport. He realized he had left it at home in his jacket pocket. They immediately turned around to retrieve it, arriving at the airport just in time to catch their flight.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com