

?Trace elements: The concentration of bromide ions is important because of the proliferation of bromide in halogenated marine antibiotics. Oxygen is necessary for optimal growth in air fermentation.