

It shows that the proposal is based on the need of using a visionary approach and in determination of new dimensions of decision making. Apart from this, the need for bringing about cultural reforms is also crucial and shows how valid and important it is to promote cultural exchanges, educational reforms and to work on the advancements of these sectors as they can add extensively to the economic performance of the organization.