Comparative and Superlative Forms of Adjectives To form the comparative, use adjective + –er or more / less + adjective. For example, "Instant messaging is faster than email." To form the superlative, use the + adjective + –est or the most / least + adjective. For instance, "Our online courses are the most popular." Some adjectives have irregular forms. For example, good becomes better and best. Remember to use than when comparing two items.
