

2. Definition of vinegar and bicarbonate: Vinegar: is an aqueous solution of acetic acid ( $\text{CH}_3\text{COOH}$ ) usually at a concentration of between 4% and 8%. Vinegar is distinguished by its sour taste and the ability to interact with bases to produce salts and carbon dioxide.