

Focusing on a niche market: Focusing on a specific niche market can help our company stand out from the competition and attract a loyal customer base. Leveraging online orders: Offering online sales and delivery can help our company reach a wider audience and generate additional revenue streams. For example, a coffee shop that focuses on sustainably sourced, organic coffee beans and offers a variety of brewing methods may appeal to a particular segment of coffee enthusiasts.