

Clinical Microscopy performs scientific analysis of non–blood body fluids such as urine, semen, and stool. The macroscopic, chemical, and microscopic examinations of urine provide initial valuable diagnostic information concerning metabolic dysfunctions of both renal and non–renal origin.