

Social Media is the language of the age because it is linked to all communities, cultures and languages, so it is a new common language used by all large and small, and proved more effective than the primitive means of communication, such as old telephone or post offices through the treatment of the defects that existed in all other means such as speed or continuous communication and the possibility of seeing others and the combination in one connection with other parties.