

Many factors come into play ranging from Social Media, mental, family and even bullying. It has come to show the victims recorded for Anorexia experienced Cyberbullying through Social Media or were believed to accept the beauty standards, which meant starvation and lacking of proper Healthy diet; these has caused many to have eating disorders so they could please the beauty standard which lays the idea that being a stick is beautiful.