

Air cooling techniques used at Microsoft data centres result in 90% lower water consumption In India, the company captures rainwater for irrigation, and on its Hyderabad campus, it treats sewage for use in landscaping, resulting in zero sewer discharge. Paris office also uses captured rainwater for irrigation and flushes fixtures.