

The branch-line coupler is a four port network consisting of two main lines coupled by two quarter-wave length lines spaced by  $\lambda/4$ . Since the structure is reciprocal and symmetrical the following conditions can be imposed on the scattering parameters