

In conclusion, we successfully built and tested a temperature-based fire alarm using components like an NTC thermistor, BJT, and potentiometer.