

I agree that Tourism has positive and negative effects on the economy of society and the environment. On the positive side it contributes to creating job opportunities and proving a source of income for local residents, as well as pumping money into the local economy and improving infrastructure. Third, on the negative side it is seasonal and affects the local economy during peak periods.