In hospitals, intravenous dextrose is the first choice. It works fast and is the most reliable way to correct blood sugar. Outside the hospital, intramuscular glucagon is recommended because it does not require IV access and can be given by trained family members or paramedics. All guidelines also stress the importance of educating families and caregivers so they know what to do in an emergency (1,2,7).

Summarized by © lakhasly.com