

Summer vacation requests require advance notice to managers. High summer absence necessitates proactive project staffing to ensure continued progress before time-off approvals are granted.