

Addressing the critical situation of students' underperformance requires a multifaceted approach that acknowledges the complex interplay of internal and external factors impacting academic achievement. By fostering intrinsic motivation, promoting effective study habits, prioritizing mental health, minimizing distractions, and providing tailored support for diverse learning needs, we can create an environment conducive to unlocking every student's academic potential. It is through collaborative efforts and targeted interventions that we can empower students to thrive academically and fulfill their aspirations for success.