

Title: Friendship Under Test I live in a small town called "Calm," and I have a close friend named Leila. We used to have a great time together, playing in the park and sharing secrets. But one day, we faced a problem. We decided to participate in a sports competition at school, and I was very excited. However, Leila felt pressure because we hadn't trained enough. On the day of the competition, I made a mistake during the game that led to our team's loss. I felt frustrated when Leila said to me, "Why don't you take this seriously?"