

"I bought the camels because I love the heritage of this country, the traditional skills and the traditional life that used to be much more prevalent here," Mr Metzger said.