

The underwater complex features futuristic pods for immersive experiences, accessible via a transparent elevator that takes visitors from land into the ocean.