

Hi John, how are you?Also, John is English or any other language that is not my mother tongue, so any word I see as a joke among the guys, I say it. Yes, it's true that it was a word that was forbidden for me to say in the public chat, but I didn't know, so I asked Bwoah about it and he said it's possible to ban me for that word.I said okay and thanked him because I really didn't know.It's E9rf, I know you might be fed up with me and this, but give me a chance to explain if you don't mind.Second, is it fair that I'm getting a full ban because of a question he should have known?Let's just be fair about this, let's say it's forbidden.Well, at least a warning or mute for a day, two days, or even a month.
