

The franchisee is usually an independent local businessperson who agrees with the franchise owner to operate the business on a local or regional basis.