

Perrine (1969) defines figurative language is an unusual way of saying something.