

"Sorry to hear about the flight delay. It can be frustrating and tiring waiting around, especially when you're eager to get to your destination. Hang in there, hopefully, you'll be on your way soon!" To provide accurate information about where the coach is going and how long it will take to get there, I'll need some specific details such as the departure point, destination, and the estimated travel time.