

Be sure to inform the patient that they are responsible for the account balance and that you are assisting them in this endeavor with the insurance company, if applicable.