

1. Determine the purpose and audience: Before starting to write, it is essential to identify the purpose of the communication and the target audience.