

Everyone has a problem and challenges with the group work, but we also have two sides: benefits and challenges, so let's talk about the benefits. Firstly human beings aren't thinking the same way; there are different ways of thinking and abilities and opinions, so it increases our development.