

When I was on holiday in England, I went to visit my friend Paul. Paul's dad was cooking sausages on the barbecue and his granddad was planting some flowers in the garden. Paul's mum started to laugh 'What are you laughing at?' everyone asked. Paul's mum moved towards the box and quickly lifted it up. Everyone started to laugh. There was the family cat, looking very frightened. Paul's dad said, "That's the box from Paul's new roller skates. I think the cat must have crawled into it and couldn't get out. We were talking about the places we were going to visit the next day when suddenly we saw a big box in the garden start to move towards us. Paul pointed to the box and yelled, Look! They couldn't hear any noises coming from the box. The sausages were burning on the barbecue. We didn't have a barbecue that day. His family was having a barbecue and I was invited. Everyone stopped what they were doing and stared at the box. When I arrived, everybody was very busy. Mmm – lovely!
