

Economy; 90% of the materials used are plastic, which is an economical material, which makes the product at a price that suits customers